

Dianna June Nave-Woodson

October 22, 1957 - July 29, 2024

Dianna June Nave-Woodson was born October 22, 1957 in Denver Colorado to Dave and Cornie Mabel Nave. Dianna grew up attending school in Pueblo and Brooklyn, New York. She graduated from Central High school in 1975. In 1980, Dianna married Leonard Woodson Jr. who she went to church with as a child at First AME and reconnected with at the University of Southern Colorado. Together they raised three children in Pueblo. She was preceded in death by her father Dave Nave, mother Mabel Nave and daughter Arri Woodson. She is survived by her husband Leonard, sons Leonard Woodson III (Tonya) and Dave Woodson (Meghan), grandchildren Gavin Woodson, Julia Woodson, Izaiah Woodson, Ian Woodson and Olivia Woodson and numerous extended family members.

Dianna earned an Associates Degree in Computer Science from Pueblo Community College but later transitioned to a career in Special Education. She went on to work for 20 years as a Community Transition Coach for Pueblo School District 60. Dianna was incredibly passionate about her work and her students. She described her work as food for the soul.

Dianna had a rich and fulfilling life. Her hobbies, from crocheting and reading to gardening and attending her husband's concerts, reflect her diverse interests and passions. Her dedication to her grandchildren was evident in her enthusiastic support at their events, making her the most spirited fan in the stands. Her love and involvement in their lives added a special touch to every moment they shared.

Dianna had a profound impact on everyone she met. Her ability to connect with people and make them feel valued was a rare and precious gift. Her memory and the lessons she imparted will continue to live on through those who knew and loved her.
