Fred was a masterful teacher for Pueblo School District 60 where he taught for 30 years both in elementary and middle school math. He was still solving quadratic equations for fun. Fred held a bachelor and master's degree in education from Adams State College. Quite often adults in the community would approach him years after he had taught them in school and tell him that he was their favorite teacher. After retirement he enjoyed extensive travel with his wife Connie. The two became inseparable, Fred was extremely devoted to his wife Connie. Fred was known as the "Greatest Grandpa Ever" by his five grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. There was literally nothing that he would not do for his children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. He made sure to attend as many activities and events that any of them were involved in. Fred was loved extensively by them and he felt that love every day. Fred loved playing sports and watching them. He spent hours watching them with his son Frank and his son-in-law Mark. Fred was a voice of reason for his daughter Cheryl when it came to educational topics. Fred lived life to the fullest. Please wear bright clothing to the funeral as Fred loved bright colors!
