

Jared G.G. Prigmore

August 3, 1982 - November 18, 2020

Jared's Story

His Journey began on August 3th 1982, in Pueblo, Colorado; but he stopped counting years at 38.

He was like a soft boiled Egg; he had a hard tough exterior, but once you cracked through he was soft and squishy.

He was passionate about woodworking; he built many things, sliding barn door, a chicken picnic table, bird houses and many other creative things.

He was not big on huge gatherings and was private but loved family and friends that were family to him. His best friend was his Pops, their relationship/bond was unbreakable. He was his rock, mentor, and all around their relationship was gold. He always loved his sister and adored his bonus brother, his nieces and nephews held his heart!

He loved to harass, joke, laugh with adults and kids. His nickname was Chuckles. All kids were Monkey butt and Kiddos. His jokes had to grow on you.

He loved motorcycles; riding, talking about and wrenching on them. He was ready anytime to go for a ride at the drop of a hat. He once said "I am happiest on the open road." He loved them so much that he went to college and received a degree to work on them.

Miss me but let me go when I come to the end of the road.
And the sun has set for me. I want no rites in a gloom filled room, why cry for a soul set free! Miss me a little,
but not for long,
and not with your head bowed low. Remember the love that we once shared.

Miss me, but let me go! For this is a journey we all must take,
and each must go alone; It's all part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road home. When you are lonely & sick of heart,
Go to the friends we know and bury your sorrows in doing good deeds,
Miss me but let me go.

Your life was a blessing your memory a treasure.
Your are loved beyond words and missed beyond measure.

“ I'm sad today thinking of my brother, who would have been the best dad in the world. I'm sad you're gone too soon, and selfishly, that I have nothing to hold onto. I miss you little brother. How I wish things were different and that I had one more day. I love you Jared. ”

“ Jared was a gentle giant that will be sorely missed by this world. I can remember many good times with Jared but 1 truly stands out to me.

We were having the final family get together for Grandma Cox and I came in from Texas to see everyone. I had my 2 nieces with me and Jared, Natalie and myself took my nieces and her twins to the nature trail for a walk and to have the kids play. Jared was so good with the girls and spent more time playing with them then taking with Natalie and myself.

Jared and I would hangout together when we were younger at family Thanksgiving and Christmas and our one pleasure was picking on our younger cousin Cale because he would cry to his mom and dad and we would just run off and hide.

I could go on and on about things with Jared as kids and some as adults but the one thing I regret the most is not staying more in touch with him. He would give the shirt off his back to help anyone in need.

I never told him, because it was a guy thing, but I loved him and going to miss him very much.

“ My dearest son,
Last night as I sat in meditation do you remember the words I spoke to you?

I told you how I knew you were in a beautiful place with all the angels that surrounded you and the unconditional love was so abundant that i could feel it in my soul.

It is a comfort to know when you made your transition to the next dimension you continued to be surrounded by loved ones in vast happiness.

My darling son, I know I will have you forever in my dreams, in my heart, and to speak to you nightly in meditation.

Namaste

Love you forever and always,

Your mom

“ Writing a tribute to my brother is wrong. If you are reading this, you were lucky as hell, because you knew him.

Jared had an infectious laugh that bellowed from his entire body and soul. When he got really excited, his eyes would turn the most beautiful and intense bright green. When he as little boy with golden ringlets, you would always find him naked, with a rolled up piece of ham, and Bear. As kids bumming around the Pueblo Reservoir and nature center was our favorite things to do, but don't let his little hands get dirty! hahahaha

While our life decisions grew us apart as adults, every time we spoke we laughed at least a little and told each other that we loved one another. A person is not gone when when you keep their memory alive in your heart. I love you, baby brother. I hope your next journey is blissful!

“ I can remember the night your mother was in labor with you. She was talking with me on the phone and I was talking her through the contractions for a couple of hours. Jared you were a blessing from that day forward. We love you very much and will forever miss you.
Love you,
Aunt Donna and Uncle Daryl.

“ Jared came into our life and became a friend, brother, and uncle without asking questions. He was kind at heart even when rubbing fur the wrong way. We always knew the truth, even when he tried to hide it. He loved his family. Every single one of them!!!

Love yall!
