

Leonard E. "Lenny" DiTomaso

June 11, 1945 - November 22, 2019

Leonard E. "Lenny" DiTomaso, 74 of Pueblo passed away Nov 22, 2019. Preceded in death by his mother, Esther DiTomaso; and father, Louis DiTomaso. Survived by his children, Gary (Kim) DiTomaso, Dana (Corey) DiTomaso- Junkman; brother, Joseph DiTomaso; sister, Jean (Russell) McDonald; grandchildren, Kayla (Chris) Thompson, Kasey (Randall) Hund; Julian and Jonah Junkman; great grandchildren, Ridley Hund, Leni Jo and Beau Thompson; numerous nieces and nephews and long time friends. Lenny was a former teacher and longtime farmer in the Vineland area and the best papa in the world to his grandchildren. He always had a story to share with family, friends, and customers. He was a generous man that always gave to others. He was a hard working farmer that loved sharing the harvest of his crops. Even though farming was his life, Lenny loved to spend time with his family but mostly with his grandchildren. At Lenny's request there will be no viewing. A special thank you to his brother Joey for being there every day for him. A Memorial Mass will be held 10:00am, Mon Dec 2, 2019 at St. Joseph Church. Online condolences can be made at roselawnpueblo.org

“ Dana,

Your dad will be remembered forever in the farming community because of his kindness and generosity. I will remember your dad forever because of his patience. The Christmas we received our matching red/white roller skates and we were skating in your living room ALL DAY LONG -- your dad didn't say a word and allowed us to have the time of our lives (I do believe he made several trips "to check on something in the yard" though)

He is watching over his little girl from Heaven and will be there for all your ups and downs.

I am here for you and your family always.

Love,

Chan

“ Went to school with Lenny starting in the first grade at Lakeside Vineland grade school.. Life long friends. When I was back in Pueblo in summer 2018 I went out to see him and really enjoyed talking with him again.. It's true he is a really great guy who is always ready to help other people. Know he is with our heavenly Father right now...
